OUR HISTORY

Who dares to teach must never cease to learn

When you enter the doors to Technology High School, you glimpse into the history of Kean University.

1913

The structure that now houses Technology High School, designed by architects Guilbert and Betelle, was built. Shortly after the construction was completed, the Newark Normal School moved into this newly constructed building on Fourth Avenue and Broadway (originally called Bellview Avenue).

1934

The first graduating class was conferred with Bachelor of Science Degree in Education in the fields of kindergarten-primary education, elementary education, fine arts, and industrial arts.

1954

Newark State Teachers College purchased 120 acres from the Kean family for its new campus.

1958

Newark State Teachers College held its final convocation in Newark.

1968

The State Department of Education received a grant from the Economic Development Administration to build an addition to the 187 Broadway structure on a share cost basis to house school named, COED.

1974

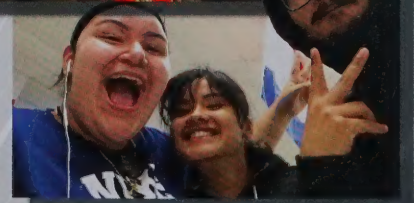

COED opens. COED fashioned its vocational program after the successful program offered to adults by Manpower Inc., in the academic part of what is now Technology High School. COED offered vocational programs, some of which are still offered today.

1996

Technology High School Opens.

2009

US News & World Report lists Technology High School as one of the best high schools in New Jersey.

Dear Class of 2020,

As your principal, my goal was to create a school environment that would prepare you for anything that life threw at you. I firmly believe that we have done just that. We have prepared you both academically and socially to succeed no matter the obstacle. You have faced the biggest challenge of our lifetime, the Coronavirus Covid-19 Pandemic, and you have persevered. I have never been more proud of a senior class as I am of yours. Your ability to remain focused during this challenging period is proof that you have the will to succeed. Not only did you stay focused, but you also remained poised. You were able to understand that although this virus robbed you of the last few months of your senior year, it was something that was out of your control. You all deserve the very best that life has to offer. Based on your actions during this period, there is no doubt in my mind that you are ready for the next chapter of your life, and you will succeed because you are resilient, you are strong, and you are confident.

Go off and prosper. Your classiness is why I will never forget the class of 2020, not because of a pandemic, but because of you.

I love you all and will miss you very much.

EMELY MARTINEZ

YARACELYS PEREZ

On behalf of the yearbook committee, thank you for your cooperation in sending in pictures! Congratulations Class of 2020!

- George Bradshaw, Jean Skillern, Yaracelys Perez & Emely Martinez

Special thanks to Aljameir Harmon for the cover design and to Alanis Rodriguez and Monica Celi for their hard work during the year.
